

Shelley Jones Biography

Shelley Jones is a fiber artist and jeweler living in Virginia. She has a background in graphic arts and social work. She exhibits nationally and teaches at various venues in Virginia for more than 10 years. She works primarily with felt, glass beads, and fine silver, favoring color and playfulness in her creations. In the past four years she has exhibited in teapot shows, expanding on her sculptural repertoire. She is happily driven to refine her skills and explore new media and techniques and continues to study with internationally acclaimed felt, bead and metal artists.